As an amateur sound technician and festival organiser, Gene has spent most of his life finding ways to generate noise. He enjoys applying this knowledge and experience to the acoustic engineering industry and helping clients achieve their goals in the process.

Since joining the AES team in 2019, Gene has provided a strong presence in Auckland and has been involved with a variety of local projects including Manukau Health Park, Air New Zealand Hangar 4, Dreamspace DSB1 luxury apartments, The Country Club Huapai, and numerous Kainga Ora residential developments.

Gene is proficient in a wide range of acoustic assessments including building design, mechanical plant noise, construction noise and vibration, and environmental noise reviews.

Gene is trained in the use of industry standard modelling and analytical software, and also has considerable experience with environmental noise measurements and verification testing for Clause G.06 of the Building Code.
